

'Terminator Genisys' an exciting, convoluted sci-fi triumph

Richard Morchoe
Boston Film Industry Examiner

Read Bio

RELATED STORIES

■ Minions swearing: Is this McDonalds toy saying curse words? (Update)

New on Netflix: 'Chris Tucker Live' and 'BoJack Horseman' highlight the week

'The Preacher's Mistress' true story inspired by Vanessa Bulls?

'The Cheating Pact' true story of Samuel Eshaghoff

AXS ENTERTAINMENT / ARTS & ENTERTAINMENT / MOVIES
See also: science fiction movies, indie film

Justice Is Mind hits the two year mark - See it in Sturbridge

✓ Like 5

Next: A real Jurassic World

Use your → key for the next article

July 11, 2015
8:39 AM MST

Mark Ashton Lund's Justice Is Mind has had a good run and it's not over. The movie is returning to its roots, sort of. There will a screening at the Sturbridge Cinemagic complex on August 18 at 7:00 p.m. Justice Is Mind was mostly filmed in Central Mass and Mark is from the region.

We wrote about Justice Is Mind here before. The Boston Film Industry Examiner had been aware of the concept before the movie was made. The actual film more than met expectations. We urge you to go to the screening. More details are at the press release which you can read here.

The movie, which explores a world where you own memories might convict you is only the beginning. In development is In Mind We Trust, a sequel that follows on with the characters from Justice Is Mind. Mark has some detail at The Ashton Times.

If SciFi with an original concept is your cup of tea, Justice Is Mind will not disappoint.

